
Google Ajax Translator

Posted by thehive - 2008/11/03 14:03

Is there any way to adjust the font size on the drop-down menu or "GO" button so that we can have the module fit into a smaller module area without the "GO" button dropping to the next line?

Also, is there any way to turn off the translation suggestion buttons once you have gone to a translated page?

www.beedeebee.com

Thanks, thehive

=====

Re:Google Ajax Translator

Posted by vivociti - 2008/11/07 06:20

currently there is no option to customize with your own style (CSS) since this mod will use default css module from your joomla default template.

for turn off, there is no way i can think of from server side since once your website is translated, environment is at google side thus there is no way to control the session. maybe some hacks can be done by using javascript/cookies which i have no idea. anyone can share pls

=====